

Job opening: Advance Practice Nursing / Clinical Nurse Specialist

Description: Seattle, Washington - Seeking an excellent nurse practitioner with interest or experience in Geriatric Medicine. Per Diem position. Excellent compensation. Ideal candidate will be willing to travel to multiple skilled nursing facilities. Swedish Medical Group's Residential Care Team is committed to delivering the highest quality care for our frail and vulnerable patients in an interdisciplinary model where nurse practitioners work closely with physicians. Care focuses on post-hospital patients during their rehab stays in our partner transitional care units, as well as primary care for residents and long-stay patients living in retirement communities in both independent and assisted living settings.

Swedish Medical Group is an integrated team of more than 1,100 physicians and advanced practice providers serving the Greater Seattle region. Some of the advantages of joining Swedish Medical Group include:

Rewarding and transparent compensation model

Comprehensive benefits package

Easy access to system-wide support including Hospital Medicine and subspecialties

Integrated electronic health record (Epic)

Seattle is the Pacific Northwest's largest urban center (metro population 3.25 million), with world-class arts and entertainment, a robust economy and an outstanding school system. The city hugs magnificent Puget Sound and offers Olympic and Cascade mountain views to the north, east and south. Seattleites are famously fond of the outdoors, fresh seafood and good coffee.

Swedish Health Services, a not-for-profit health system based in Seattle, operates five renowned hospitals and more than 100 medical clinics offering primary and specialty care. Swedish is a partner organization of the Providence St. Joseph Health (PSJH) family. With hundreds of physician and advanced practice clinician opportunities in virtually all specialties at any given time, PSJH and Swedish offer diverse locations, lifestyles and practice models. Swedish is proud to be an Equal Employment Opportunity organization.
